All participants are advised that this release and the event rules regarding photographers' actions apply only to official event photographers. This release form does not apply to or limit the actions of individual participants who may choose to take pictures during the event. Participants who feel strongly that their likeness should not be recorded by anyone are advised to be aware of where individuals are taking pictures during the event and stay clear of such areas.

Normal dungeon etiquette is expected.

Enter a scene in progress only if specifically invited by the participants.

Get permission before touching anyone or anyone's gear.

Watch from a respectful distance.

Be aware of the scenes around you. (Avoid being in the back swing of a flogger, cane or single tail)

Please keep conversations, laughter and comments to a minimum in the dungeon space.

Refrain from talking to players while they are involved in a scene, unless invited to do so.

Play fair. Remember that others may want to play on the same equipment you are using.

Clean up after yourself.

Dungeon Monitors must be obeyed at all times.

If someone is breaching dungeon etiquette and your scene is being disturbed or you are being bothered unduly, please notify a DM

The house safeword is “Red” for “stop” and the house caution word is “Yellow.” A DM will intervene in a scene if s/he hears the word “Red” and the top in the scene does not respond.

Prostitution, solicitation, and negotiation of compensation for sexual services are illegal and shall not be tolerated. Violations shall result in removal.

Penetrative sex is not allowed at this event.

Smoking is permitted only in the smoking lounge of the club. Smoking is prohibited in the dungeon space.

Please keep food in the social area on the upper level. Only water and soft drinks are permitted in the dungeon space.

To reduce the risk of air borne contamination, refrain from play which puts blood, body fluids or other material into the air, for example a single tail or flogging scene where the whip impacts and scatters or aerosolizes blood.

Please leave all equipment free from sweat, blood, body fluids, wax or other debris. If you do a wax or other messy scene, please use a tarp or drop cloth. If you are unsure how to clean a piece of equipment, please ask a DM, Organizer or site staff for assistance. It is recommended that all players take responsibility for safe play and clean equipment before and after play. Bring bodily fluid contamination to the attention of a DM.
